Communication Is a Wonderful Thing

By Rodrick E. Conerly, Executive Director

Recently Pastor Red Brick had experienced an odd sensation in his life as a pastor. For some reason his ministry had begun to feel like WORK rather than ministry. A realization occurred to him that the normal tasks of church life had begun to feel – well, they just felt routine. The specialness he usually felt about things like hospital and nursing home visits, sermon and Bible study preparations, meetings with church leaders and the like just felt routine. Something seemed to be missing, but he could not pinpoint it. He likened the feelings to his morning Starbucks tall double shot skinny latte coffee suddenly becoming a cup of regular Folgers instant coffee.

That morning as he sat in Starbucks, he saw Pastor Onya Knees at a table in the corner. Pastor Onya served the Small And Thriving Church, a good sized country congregation that usually had between 50 and 100 on Sunday morning. Red had noticed through the years that Small And Thriving Church had produced a number of missionaries and pastors, some of whom had begun to serve on the state and national convention levels. God seemed to have His hand on that church.

As Red walked over to Onya's table, he said, "Brother Onya. How are you doing?"

Red noticed that Pastor Onya's head was over his cup of coffee and that he did not immediately respond. After an awkward moment, Red began to step away, but then Pastor Onya raised his head and said, "Sorry, Brother Red, but I was listening to God. Please. Have a seat."

"Oh," Red replied, "Well, the Bible does say to pray without ceasing. But isn't the coffee shop an odd place to have a prayer meeting?"

"I guess it seems that way, Red," responded Onya, "but at our mid-week prayer meeting last week after I encouraged our people to get into the community to witness, Sister Constance came to me after the meeting with a challenge."

"A challenge," said Red, "What kind of a challenge?"

"Well, Red, do you know Sister Constance?" asked Pastor Onya.

Pastor Brick replied that he had met her at some of the association meetings and other church related functions. She seemed to be a spiritually mature Christian.

"You are right, Red. She has been a Christian for over fifty years and God has given her a wonderful spiritual insight," replied Onya. "She challenged me that if we pastors expect our members to get into the community to reach people for Christ, shouldn't we first engage their environment, their normal day to day routine, with prayer?"

"Now, Pastor Red," said Onya, "I am guilty of fussing at my flock for not getting into the community to invite them to church. I felt that if they would just get out there, then more people would come to church. But I have got to tell you Red, God used Sister Constance to convict me that I can't expect my people to do what I do not do. So, I committed to Sister Constance that I would begin the workweek on Monday morning and end the week on Friday morning in a place where the people in the community begin and end their workweek. What better place than a coffee shop? People are in and out in a few minutes."

Pastor Onya continued that he had realized that communication with God is a wonderful thing, when it happens. As he sat in the coffee shop praying for people as they came in and went out, he realized that prayer takes time to hear from God. Prayer is the way that God communicates with His people. Pastor Onya concluded that too often prayer serves as a one way conduit to God funneling people's needs, concerns, complaints, and more often than not, their gripes to God. God had spoke to him that he had to develop an understanding of the priority of prayer in his own life personally. He had made some notes on a napkin. He read his notes to Pastor Brick.

The notes on his napkin included the following:

1. God grows His church. Church growth is spiritual warfare. God grows His church by breaking down spiritual barriers and strongholds. Prayer is a major resource for bringing down these barriers and strongholds.
2. Prayer is indispensable in the life of a church that is relevant to its community. The priority of prayer is a clearly established pattern in tracing the movement of God in the book of Acts.
3. Prayer is the vital link between God and the pastor of the church. Prayer in the life of the pastor allows him to stay sensitive to the leadership of the Holy Spirit for the growth of His church.

Pastor Onya continued, "Brother Red, I have been here for over an hour praying for people I don't know, but it seems like just fifteen minutes have passed. Just before you walked over, I asked God what He wanted me to do next. As I listened, He told me that I need to get more people involved. And then you appeared at my table. So God must have sent you. What do you think we ought to do?"

Suddenly, Pastor Red Brick's feeling of his work being ordinary vanished. He realized he needed more interaction with men committed to engage the community where the people live. Pastor Red confessed that he did not know what to do next, but he wanted to be a part of this new way of praying for the church.

"Well, brother Onya, let's talk about creating a team of church leaders in each of our churches to do what you are talking about," said Red. With that, Pastor Onya reached for another napkin, and as they talked he made more notes.

First, they decided to create a new environment of prayer in their churches. Prayer needed to be more than bookends to start and end the worship services.

Second, as pastors, they would no longer assume that their people knew how to pray. They would intentionally begin to model and to teach prayer in every setting of the church. They determined to begin with their staff, deacons, Bible study leaders, everyone including the maintenance staff.

Third, Red would contact the association office about different kinds of prayer ministries. He knew the association had a Prayer Coordinator and he had heard about Prayer Walking and Community Prayer Drive - Throughs. They committed to elect a Prayer Coordinator in their churches. They wanted to learn more about all types of prayer ministries.

Fourth, they would create Intercessory Prayer Teams in their churches to specifically pray for lost people by name. They decided to personally invite people to be on the team (1) who had a passion for the lost, (2) who already were known to be committed to prayer, (3) who had an interest in the growth of the local church, and (4) who could keep a confidence.

As Pastor Red and Onya left the coffee shop, they had realized that the power of prayer and the presence of God are inseparable. As God's people pray, God's power becomes evident in them and begins to affect their church and their community. © 2007 Rodrick E. Conerly.

The BCM at LSU requests your help with our building renovation. We had a couple of groups cancel and we are in real need of volunteers. Two project managers teach the volunteers and supervise the overall construction, so no experience is needed. All meals are provided and we can arrange free lodging for out of town workers.

We are asking all of our BAGBGR churches send us the names and contact information for graduating high school students. We will distribute contact information to the respective college BCM so that each student will be contacted by a campus ministry. We want to make every effort to help our youth make a smooth transition to college and remain active in local churches throughout their adulthood.

This fall we will resume our International Coffee House on Sundays from 3:00-5:00pm. Interested persons may contact Mandy Trammell at MTrammell@bcmlsu.net or (225) 343-0408.

Christmas in August

Pat Caudill, Gonzales Seamen Center Director

The Gonzales Seamen's Center strives to offer God's love by providing a safe and reliable haven for seafarers from around the world. Because seafarers are far from home and cannot connect with loved ones on a regular basis for months at a time, we offer assistance with making international phone calls home as well as access to their country through the internet. In addition, they are able to mail letters and send money to their families. Seafarers also use this time to shop, as well as relax by shooting pool, playing the piano and guitars, ping-pong, air hockey, soccer, checkers, dominoes, and watching television.

As seafarers are taken back to ships, all are given "ditty bags" which contain wash cloths, bars of soap, toothpaste, toothbrushes, mouth wash, deodorant, shampoo, shaving cream, razors, pens, pencils, writing tablets, envelopes, hand lotions, combs, and cards. In addition, each receives Bible Tracts and a Book of John. Bibles are also available in their languages for them to take. Each ship is provided "Jesus" films in the language of its crew. The DVD in English and Spanish cost $6 each; other languages cost $10 each.

We are short of supplies for the "ditty bags" and would ask that you consider helping us meet this need. Please pray that the churches will respond and encourage your church to participate. Please ship any items you collect to Gonzales Seamen's Center, c/o Pat Caudill, Director, 8880 Antioch Road, Baton Rouge, LA 70817 or call him at (225) 715-4991. Since shipping has become expensive, you may want to consider donating money with a check payable to Gonzales Seamen's Center with an indication of whether you want the money used for "ditty bags" or "Jesus" films. Checks can be mailed to the Gonzales Seamen Center or to the Baptist Association of Greater Baton Rouge.

If you would like to schedule a visit to the Center, please contact me at home (225) 752-0109 or the Seamen Center at (225) 647-1617.

Judson Baptist Retreat Center

Eugene Morris, Coordinator

Our Upper Room is complete and already being used to minister to all groups at JBRC! We've had banquets, women's groups, Teens In Action, and Woodlawn's Kid's Camp utilize this new, exciting facility! Check out our website for pictures!

As you receive this publication, our summer will be history! But as we go to press, we are in the middle of an awesome summer! We've had Victory Harvest Children's Camp, Istrouma Kid's Camp, Teens In Action Camp with 48 girls, Cornerstone Fellowship Kid's Camp, Boys' Missions Camp with 136 boys and counselors and Woodlawn Kid's Camp! Our Boys' Missions Camp had a missions offering of $400.00, and we had twelve professions of faith!

Our Girls' Missions Camp has 544 girls and counselors registered and looks to be one of our best yet! There will be a report in the next Good News about God's work during the last half of the summer!

God answered our prayers for a buckboard wagon, and we have added wagon rides to our activities and the campers are really enjoying getting to ride to breakfast in the back of a buckboard wagon! We will end our summer with Equestrian Camp, University Kid's Camp and Christian Life Kid's Camp! No time for rest right now!

Our hearts are full as we begin to get reports of lives that have already been touched this summer. One of our campers was asked by his mother if he was ready to go home at the end of his week of camp and his reply was, "No!" She asked him why and he replied, "Because Jesus lives here!" If that doesn't bring tears...well!

A father to one of our TIA Campers was a counselor at Boys' Missions Camp and he reported that prior to TIA camp they had been having conflict in their home over music, friends, etc. and that after his 7th grade daughter returned home, she threw away her secular music and apologized to them for not honoring them as parents! What an awesome job our college staff did teaching these 7th-8th graders about spiritual purity!

New Fall Adventures!

Did your camper miss out on our summer Equestrian Camp? No worries! We will have our first Fall Weekend Equestrian Camp October 19-21. We will begin our weekend with "horse stuff" and horsemanship classes that are Biblically based. Our weekend will end with a demonstration on Sunday afternoon for family and friends. This weekend will be especially designed for campers who have completed 4th - 6th grades!

Need to spend some quality time with your daughter and you both love horses? We have just the weekend for you! Come to the rolling piney hills of JBRC...get away from all the distractions of the city and take time to relax, recreate, and ride! Our equestrian weekend for mothers/daughters will be October 26-28. Daughters need to be at least six years old...no age limitations for moms! Take time to renew your relationship with your daughter and deepen your relationship with the Lord!

Are you looking for a family weekend adventure that will provide not only an enjoyable time, but will also serve to knit your family's hearts together and challenge you in your walk with the Lord? Come check out our new Weekend Family Camp November 9-11. Activities will include family worship, family games, horseback riding, volleyball, basketball, breakfast trail ride, and much more! Accommodations will be in the Fluker/Wallace Adult Building; RV sites are available!

Finally, please keep our son and his family in your prayers: Ben, Renee', Justin, Colton, and Colby Morris. Ben deploys overseas with the 769th Engineer Battalion FSC. Continue to pray for all our soldiers and their families as they defend our country!

Feel free to check out our pictures at <http://www.bagbr.org/retreatcenter.htm>.
